

Emily Benson holds a bachelor's degree in international studies, with a minor in Peace and Conflict Studies from the University of Utah, and a master's degree in Human Rights and Global Ethics from the University of Leicester in the United Kingdom. Emily has a keen interest in public involvement, community affairs, and conflict resolution. Her ability to carry out projects individually, as well as a member of a collaborative team has enabled her to embrace various projects swiftly and with enthusiasm.

PROJECT EXPERIENCE

West Davis Corridor (Phase 2: SR 193 to 1800 N) | Utah Department of Transportation (2021 – ongoing) West Davis is a new 16-mile, 4-lane divided highway project that required extensive public involvement. To manage this critical component, The Langdon Group was hired to coordinate all stakeholder and city communications. As a key member of The Langdon Group, Emily develops and implements effective public involvement (PI) strategies, coordinates with multiple agencies and stakeholders, resolves conflicts as they arise, and manages public comments and concerns. Her role in this effort allows her to engage with residents and city officials to ensure that their perspectives were heard and considered throughout the project's development.

Morgan Water Metering | Morgan City (March 2024-ongoing) Emily creates informational door hangers and contact cards for the contractor to provide to residents who will have a meter installed in their yard per the conservancy district's request. Emily also delivers informational fliers to let people know why there was construction happening in their yards through the winter season. On a weekly basis, Emily is the main contact for residents to call and for the contractor to coordinate all schedules. Throughout this project, Emily will be able to provide stakeholders a personal hotline to have any questions answered.
2150 S to 2600 S | Woods Cross (2024-ongoing) Emily sets up stakeholder meetings and attends construction progress meetings as well. She works in conjunction with other JUB and TLG staff members to ensure that public involvement at each stage of the project goes smoothly.

Box Elder Water Master Plan (ongoing) Emily assists TLG and JUB staff in compiling public information data such as comment cards and map information. She acts as an overall support system for this project, handling administrative responsibilities and interaction with the public that is directly affected by this project.

UDOT & Kaysville City 200 North SR-273 from US-89 to 400 West | Kaysville City (December 2023-Present) Emily is providing public outreach project management efforts during this federal-aid project. The Langdon Group will work with the contractor to perform public outreach efforts for the pavement preservation project along SR-273 from US-89 to 400 West. The pavement preservation work includes a 2" mill and overlay from 200 South to 400 West. A bonded wearing course will then be applied from US-89 to 400 West. The structure over US-89 will have structure pothole patching performed as well as a polymer overlay will be applied. As part of this project, Kaysville City is performing some betterment work with this contract that includes installing a waterline from 400 West to Main Street along 200 North as well as installing some concrete bulbouts. The project is along Main Street in Kaysville and will be impacting business owners as well as residents. As part of the contract, TLG will provide public involvement will be included to keep the public updated throughout construction.
